

Technology company helps pave way for ex-offenders in job search

Defender Staff Report

KENTECH Consulting, The maker of ArrestFree.com, has signed several agreements with Temporary Staffing Agencies throughout Illinois to provide pre-employment background checks.

In addition to customary screening, Kentech will help staffing agencies better understand any minor records found and determine if it is expungable.

"We are excited about this opportunity", said Kenneth Coats, chairman of Kentech Consulting Inc. and ArrestFree.com. "Our goal is two-fold: to increase staff for our clients by tapping this underserved talent pool of mostly first-time petty offenders and promote job opportunities for those with minor blemishes in their background by ensuring they are not unnecessarily denied a job due to a minor offense on their record which is clearable."

Kentech Consulting Inc. provides risk management solutions for both pre-employment and tenant screening to government and private companies, alike, in human resources.

Utilizing state-of-the-art technology, Kentech offers a wide array of services from criminal background search and credit reporting to immigration status check and international terrorist database search capabilities all from a convenient secure web portal.

ArrestFree.com is an Internet-based company in Chicago and the first e-commerce Internet-based expungement site of its kind in the U.S. It provides a user-friendly, cost-effective e-commerce model to assist people in the expungement/sealing of their minor/victimless arrest record.

ArrestFree.com will provide people a meaningful avenue to maximize their chances of re-establishing a solid reputation in their career orientation and community.

Ten percent of ArrestFree.com's profit goes back into the community it serves with employment, expungement and training-sponsored events as part of its mission of expunging 1 million eligible citizens' arrest records across the U.S.